

6th LSE–Bayreuth Student Philosophy Conference

Friday 4 May, Room K6 (FAN B)

- 09.30–10.00 Tea & Coffee
- 10.00–11.00
Is Evolutionary Psychology Best Thought of as a Field of Inquiry or as a Research Programme?
Lucy Dukes (LSE)
Commentary: Cristina Borgoni (UBT)
- 11.00–12.00
May I Lie because I'm a Woman?
Rebecca Tjaben-Stevens (UBT)
Commentary: Campbell Brown (LSE)
- 12.00–13.30 Lunch
- 13.30–14.30
Can Culture Form Part of the Extended Mind?
Silvina Maestro (LSE)
Commentary: Vuko Andrić (UBT)
- 14.30–15.30
Is it Rational to be Risk Averse behind the Veil of Ignorance, as Argued by Rawls?
Frederik Wild (UBT)
Commentary: Johanna Thoma (LSE)
- 15.30–16.00 Tea and Coffee
- 16.00–17.30 Keynote Lecture
Persons, Authority and Self-Knowledge
Cristina Borgoni (UBT)
- 19.00 Conference Dinner

Saturday 5 May, Room K6 (FAN B)

- 09.30–10.00 Tea & Coffee
- 10.00–11.00
Alternative Possibilities and Epistemic Modality
Jonas Hollstein (UBT)
Commentary: Campbell Brown (LSE)
- 11.00–12.00
The Unconscious Conventionalism of the Physical Geometry of Space
Matthew Coates (LSE)
Commentary: Cristina Borgoni (UBT)
- 12.00–13.30 Lunch
- 13.30–14.30
The Problem of the Changing Demos - A Necessary Feature of a Real-World Democratic Association
Jonathan Schött (UBT)
Commentary: Johanna Thoma (LSE)
- 14.30–15.30
A Dilemma for the Silencing Argument
Emma Curran (UBT)
Commentary: Vuko Andrić (UBT)
- 15.30–16.00 Tea and Coffee
- 16.00–17.30 Keynote Lecture
The Insignificance of Value Additivity
Campbell Brown (LSE)
- 18.00 Drinks